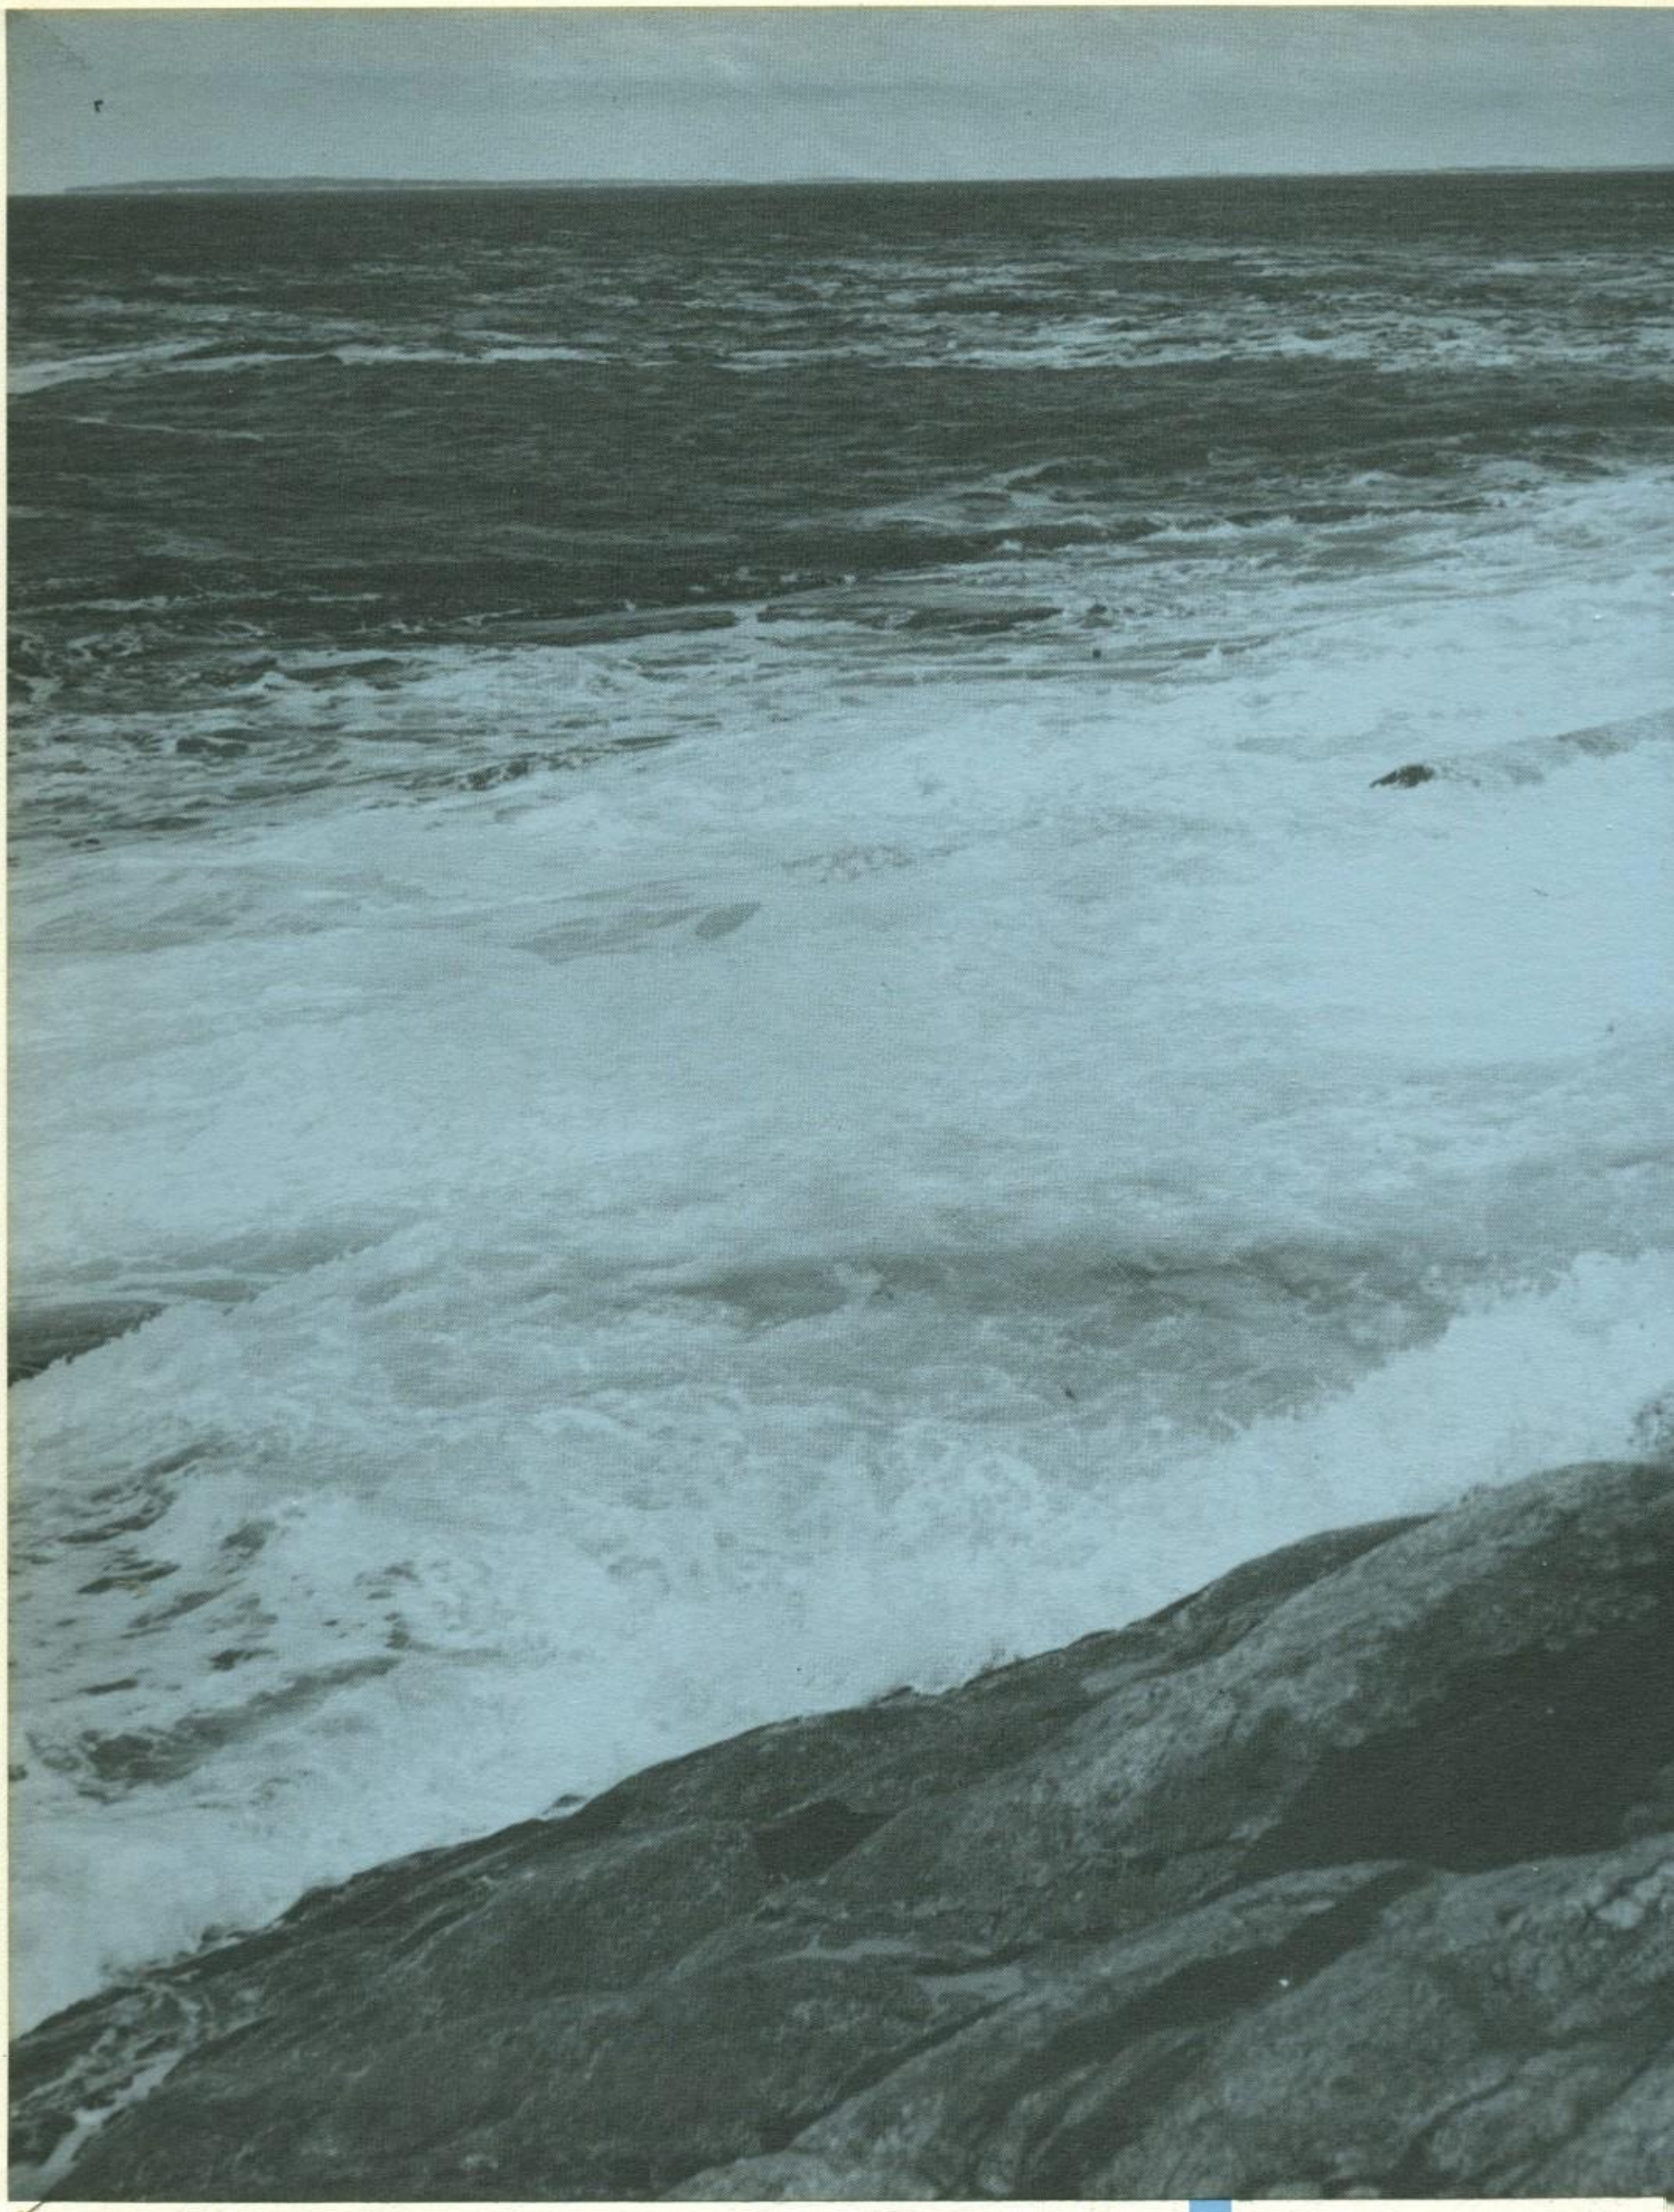
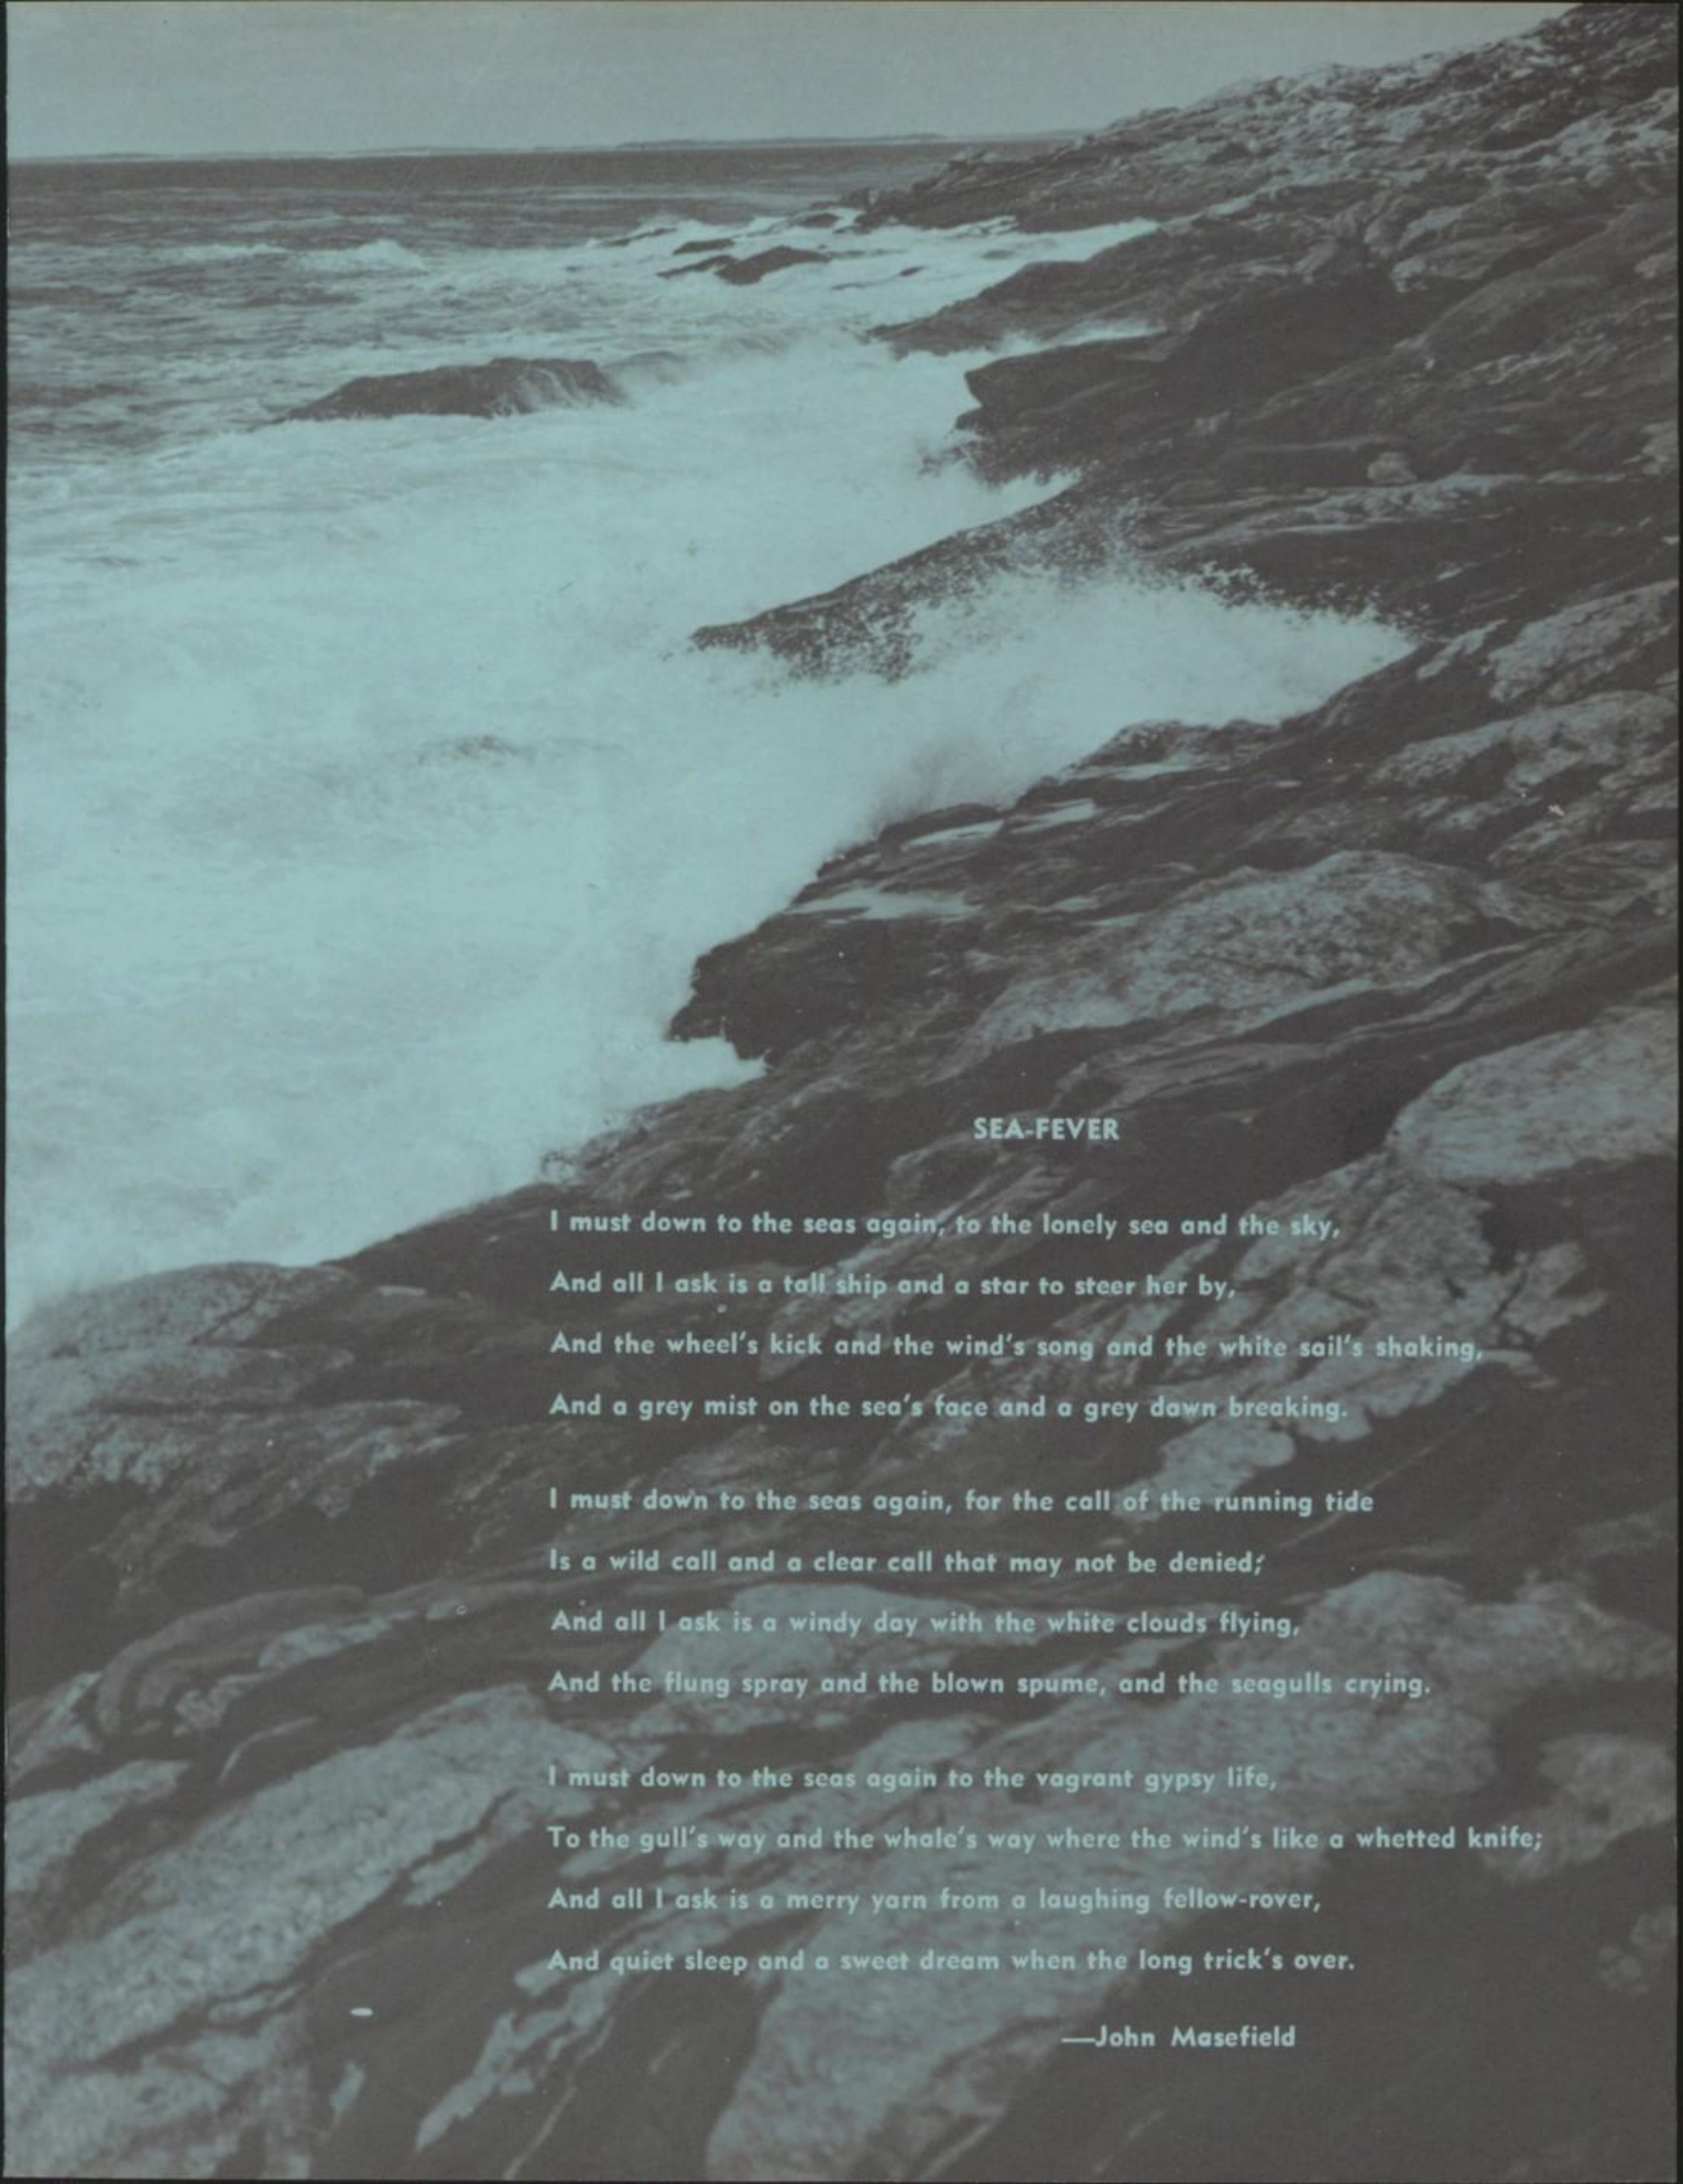
PENDULUM





SEA-FEVER

I must down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by,
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking,
And a grey mist on the sea's face and a grey dawn breaking.

I must down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the seagulls crying.

I must down to the seas again to the vagrant gypsy life,
To the gull's way and the whale's way where the wind's like a whetted knife;
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover,
And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.

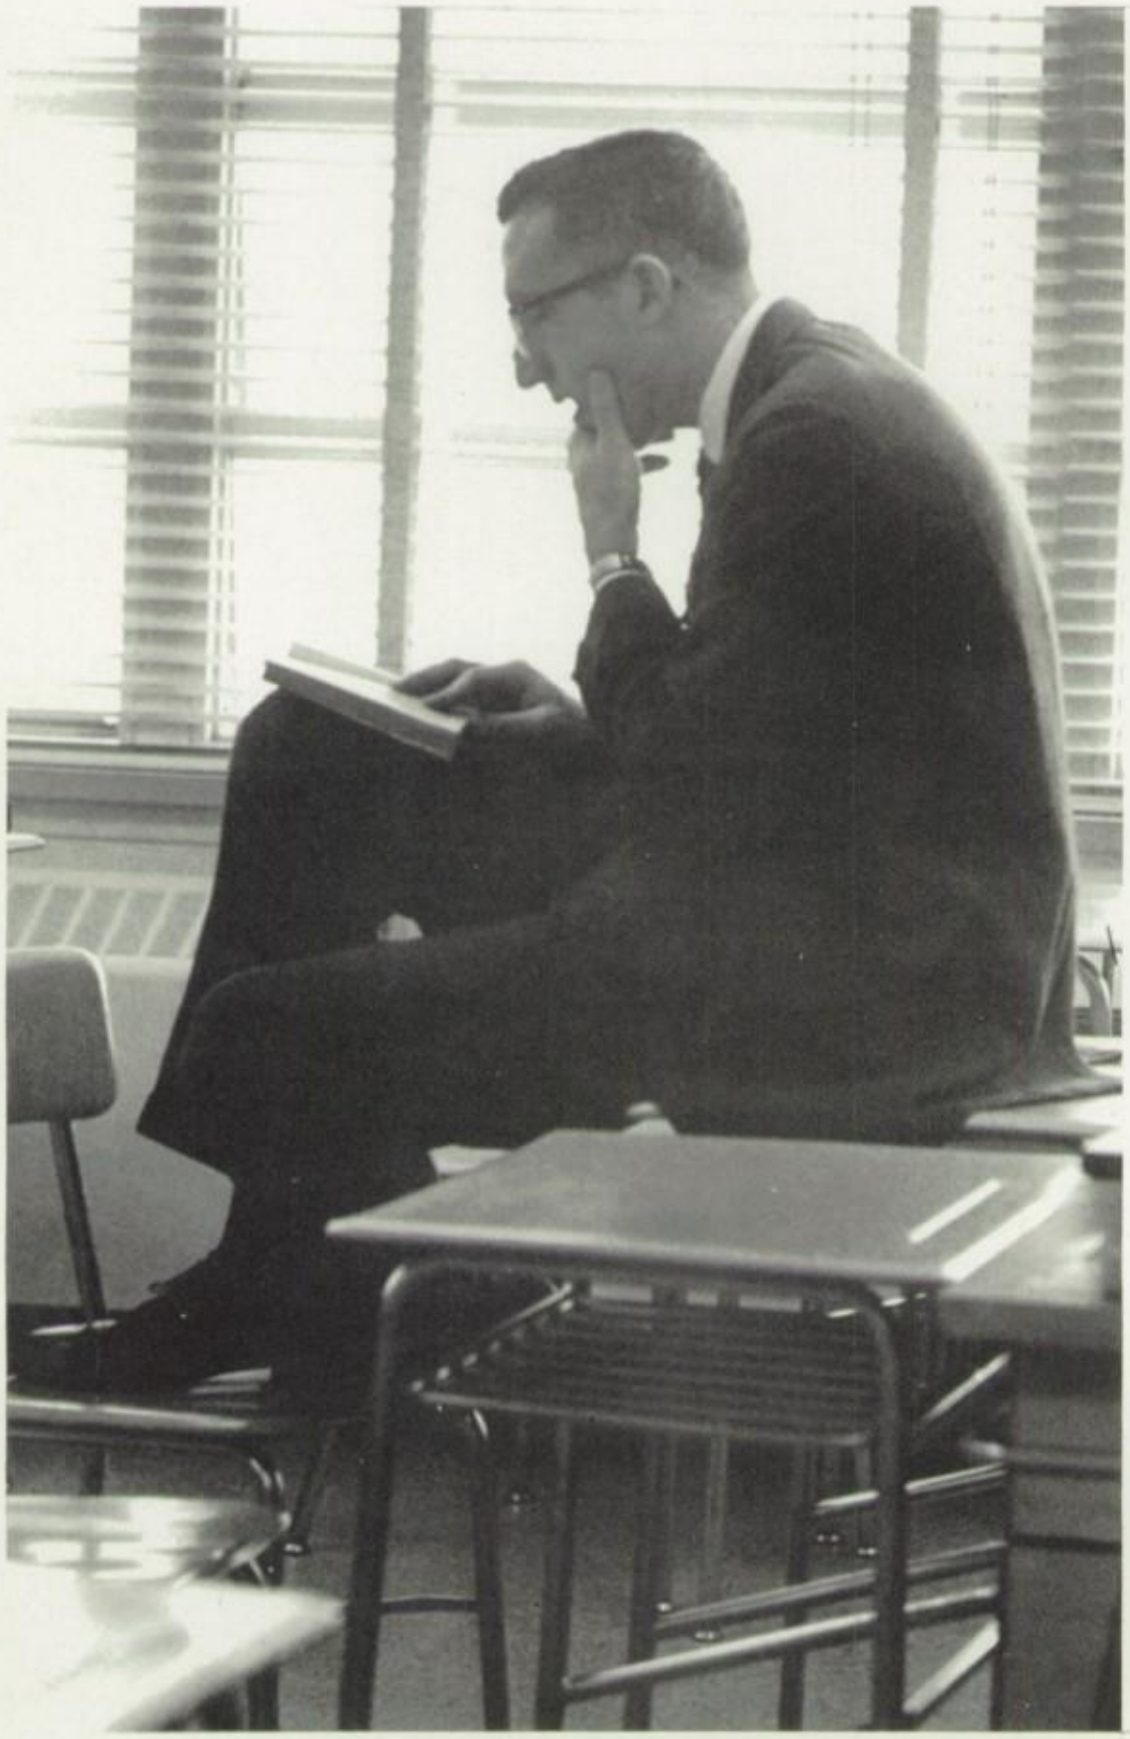
DEDICATION



The Thinker

The students of the Class of 1966 of Westlake High School have been fortunate in many ways, but one stands out above all the others. As a class, we have been guided and advised by a unique person. All the energies, all the efforts, all the time given for us cannot be measured. For this guidance and friendship, we dedicate the 1966 PENDULUM to Mr. Thomas Gould.

Where's the rest of the class?

Where's Mr. Gould?

We ran out of hot dogs!

OFFICERS AND CREW

In September 1965, we embarked upon our third voyage on the S.S. Westlake, under the excellent guidance and leadership of our officers and crew. Many have been with us through the hardships and triumphs of our first two exploits and we hope they will stay through many more. We welcome the newcomers, hoping that they will enjoy our ship and knowing that they will add to its stability and purpose.

Mr. Rudolph Neubauer

No man is an island entire of itself; every man is a piece of the main. If a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as if a manor of thy friend's or of thine own were.

Any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind, and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee.

— John Donne —

Rudolph Neubauer's rich, full life was dedicated to service for his fellow man, and to the betterment of our community. His untimely death has shocked all the residents of this school district. His loss to the Board of Education, the school faculty and staff members, the students, the parents and the citizens is profound. His days were too few, but his deeds will live after him.

Mr. Neubauer touched many lives through his many efforts, but perhaps the finest of his service was devoted to education. In 1957 he became a member of the Thornwood School Board. He had served as president of the Board of Education of the centralized district since 1961. During his tenure of office and under his leadership, the Thornwood, Hawthorne and Reynolds districts joined to form Mount Pleasant Central School District No. 1. A complete school system, from kindergarten through the twelfth grade was developed, and Westlake High School was planned and constructed. Westlake High School has earned accreditation from the New York State Education Department and the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Mr. Neubauer gave generously of his time and talents so that the children of this school district would profit from a fine educational program. We, the members of the school family, have lost a leader with clear vision and a dedication to the service of our children and youth. We wish to express our deep and sincere sympathy to the members of the Neubauer family and to thank them for sharing with us this selfless man who added so much to so many lives, and asked only the best for us all.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Dr. Bernard Bryan

BOARD OF EDUCATION

To Westlake High School Student Body:

"Ask not what your country can do for you. Ask what you can do for your country." This message from the inaugural address of the thirty-fifth President of the United States has everlasting meaning for all Americans, young and old. As school citizens and future voters, ask not what your rights and privileges are, ask what your duties and responsibilities are.

You who attend Westlake High School are extremely fortunate; you have many privileges. You attend classes in a modern, well-equipped school building; you are taught by a competent, highly-trained professional staff; you select courses from a comprehensive, expanding curriculum; you participate in a variety of well-planned extra-curricular activities.

As students in a democratic society, it is your responsibility to take complete advantage of the educational opportunities at your disposal. It is your duty to apply earnest and sincere effort to your studies now, so that you may become well-informed, thoughtful, contributing, dedicated citizens of your community, your state, your nation, and, indeed, your world.

William A. Zimmerman

District Principal

Dear Members of the Class of 1966:

"Prepared to Go-Ready to Mix-That's the Class of '66."

These few words describe my sentiment, as it becomes my proud privilege to wish you all success and happiness as you leave Westlake High School for the life ahead.

I believe that you are prepared to go. This preparation is the productive result of a cooperative effort by your parents, the community, the faculty, and very importantly, you, the members of the Class of 1966. You have earned an education of which you can be proud and which will provide the foundation for what is really the dawn of your promising lives.

There is no doubt that the Class of 1966 is ready to mix into the adult world and to take its place as a contributing segment of this world wide community. You have demonstrated, while students at Westlake High School, that you have the ability to learn, and the energy to achieve high goals. We will always be indebted to you for the contribution you have made to the development of Westlake High School. Westlake is a school that you can be proud to recognize as your Alma Mater and I hope that you will always remember this phase of your life as productive and worthwhile, and that your memories of Westlake will be favorable.

Aim high and walk steadily toward your goals and know that Westlake will proudly watch and remember you; The Class of 1966.

John L. Wheatley

Principal

To the Students of Westlake High School:

I am glad to have this opportunity to address the students of Westlake High School. I have always had a high regard for our students. I have said many times, and to many people, that our students are of good character. The comments made in the report of the Middle States Evaluating Committee expresses very well what I have always felt and I would therefore like to quote from that report.

"The committee remarked again and again about the students, their polite and courteous manner, their very evident affection for and their pride in their school. And the Committee well understands the motivating force behind this attitude. It was profoundly moved by the students behavior, by the care with which they accord the physical plant, by their integrity, and high moral standards. It found them unsophisticated, but not naive; ingenuous, but never artful. The Committee was impressed by that student who said: The students here at Westlake like both each other and their teachers; the faculty likes us and also has a mutual and warm respect for each other. The faculty likes to help us and we're grateful."

This is a fine tribute of which you can be justly proud.

MISS DUNKEL

"Above all else be expressive."

The English Department continued to expand this year, revising the twelfth grade curriculum so that the emphasis is now on contemporary literature taught through the literary genres in paperback form and visually reproduced in full-length films.

In the eleventh grade a modern linguistic approach to grammar was introduced on a trial basis and was found to be so successful that it will be expanded in the next academic year.

Student teachers from Good Counsel College, Colby College in Maine, and Pace College worked with our English staff to gain actual teaching experience.

SOCIAL STUDIES

At Westlake the Social Studies Department is an ever growing forward looking group, who teach of the past and look to the future. Their courses reach into many areas of the world and community.

Along with its dates and events from text books, many varied "resources" have been brought in to enrich the program. The Problems of Democracy class has been visited by a group from the Job Corps program and Mr. Young, a member of the school board, came to lecture on law. "Uncle Art" Silliman took many Junior High students on Adventure Education trips throughout the county, and some American History students participated in a working Model Congress in New Rochelle. The Asian Studies class held a progressive dinner including foods from India, Japan, and China, prepared by the students and eaten in Asian costume.

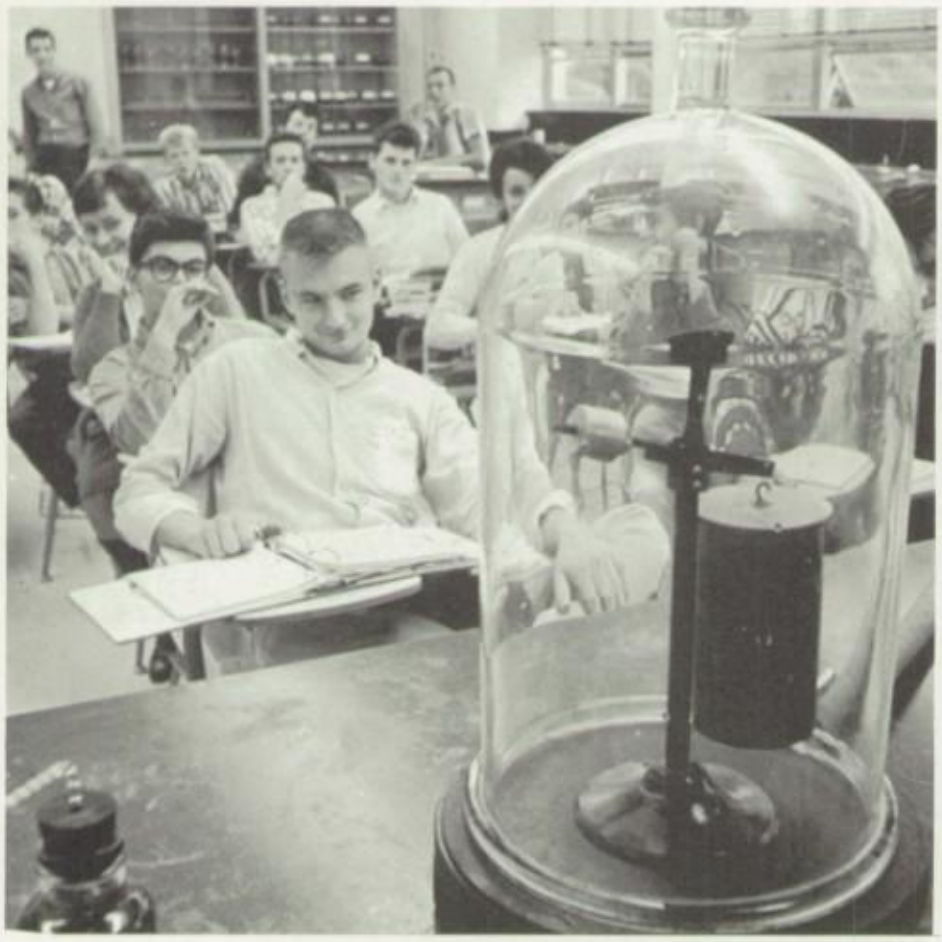
"The problems of a teenager are the most difficult to solve."

"The problems of Asia and Africa are the most difficult to solve."

SCIENCE

The Science Department at Westlake is an area of the school that can excite one or all of your senses. In the Biology lab your sense of smell will be excited by formaldehyde. In Earth Science you can watch a model volcano explode. In Chemistry you can drool over the delicious aroma of wintergreen and banana oil. The Advanced Biology class will tell you how your blood works and how radiation affects yeast. In Junior High Science classes you can bend glass. In Physics classes you can see and hear what happens when you evacuate a fifty gallon drum. It is an interesting department where many unusual and enlightening activities will, most of all, excite your mind.



PHYSICAL SCIENCE

MATHEMATICS

From Left to Right: Mr. Cappadona; Mrs. Wood; Mr. Connelly; Mr. Kenney; Miss Ellison; Mr. Singer; Mr. Talty, Coordinator. Missing Face: Miss Valentini.

MR. KENNEY

"That's a very nice excuse, but where is your math homework?"

Today the demand for higher mathematics is increasing. If you look at the changes in our Mathematics Department this year, you can clearly see that Westlake is preparing for this demand. For those not so mathematically inclined, Basic Algebra and Basic Geometry prepare them for the regents courses in those fields. A new method of teaching is used with programmed materials.

Math 13, introduced this year, is for students already having four years of high school mathematics. It is enabling math-conscious, college-bound seniors to taste a bit of college mathematics before plunging into the real thing.

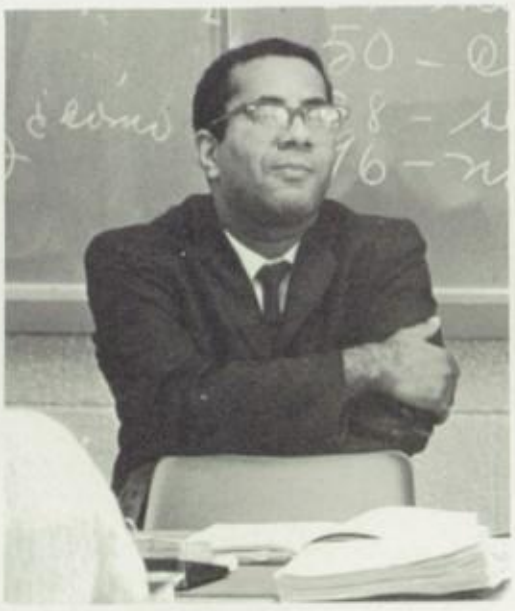
MR. TALTY

"This makes a computer work."

LANGUAGE

From Left to Right: Mr. Vandenbulcke; Mr. Gould; Mr. Turmel; Mr. Converse; Dr. Edreira.
Missing Faces: Mrs. Brodey, Coordinator; Mr. Galgano.

This year the accent in the Language Department has been on continuing emphasis in academic achievement in foreign languages. The number of native speakers in the department was increased by the addition of Mr. Vandenbulcke from Belgium. Students increased their knowledge of the culture and language of France and Spain by attending performances in New York of the Madrid Ballet and the Comédie Francaise. They also read outside of class a variety of novels and plays in the original French and Spanish. Latin students unraveled complicated translations from which they received new cultural perspective about ancient Rome and the beginnings of Western civilization. Through Latin they gained a greater understanding of the English language.



DR. EDREIRA

"You call that Spanish!"

MR. VANDENBULCKE

"They don't care what they do actually, as long as they pronounce it properly."

MUSIC

Along with its traditional Fall and Spring Concerts, the Westlake High School Music Department again produced the spring musical. The musical for this year was the lyrical The King and I. The Marching Band took on a new look being the first band to introduce the British Wind Band tradition to Westchester. We were selected to participate in a pilot project in conjunction with Lincoln Center. Many fine assembly programs, including a production of Cosi Fan Tutte, were presented.

ART

CREATIVE PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB
Using the camera as an artistic medium.

Studying in the Art Department is a contributing as well as a learning experience. It is the art student who decorates the school at Christmas time and who brightens the bulletin boards and showcases near the art rooms with their work. They are important contributors of artwork to school publications. In various classes they make jewelry, do advertising and architectural design, draw, paint in water colors and oils, and explore other areas of art.

The Creative Photography Club is made up of students who plan to major in art. They are using the camera as an artistic medium and learning how to be creative with it.

MR. GROSSO
Because of Mr. Grosso you can find out about almost anything in the library.

"I like the Smothers Brothers better than the Civil War . . ."

LIBRARY

The Westlake High School Library is an outstanding feature of the school as well as the community. Holding over 10,000 books, our library has many other facilities to meet the students' needs. Excellent reference materials are available, and over 200 magazines are subscribed to, either weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly. An individual study room, especially for seniors, is also available.

New this year is a phonograph with 4 earphones or "listening stations," where students can listen to records of Shakespeare's plays, Frost's poems, or Supreme Court cases. The library this year was the audio visual information center where teachers could go for equipment or information on films or filmstrips.

Mr. Grosso, Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Johnston all worked to help make the library something of which the students can be proud. Proof of this is that alumni can be seen there at work during their semester breaks. So, it seems, that for serious study as well as light reading, the library is a most favorable retreat.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education Department is run smoothly and efficiently by Mr. Fauser, Mr. Gira, Miss Allen and Mrs. Silver for the purpose of improving the physical well-being of the students and giving them the right attitude toward their athletic endeavors.

The girls' program consists of accelerated courses in gymnastics and calisthenics, putting to use the new uneven parallel bars. There is archery and field hockey in the fall, and in the spring the girls are outside enjoying the fresh air while participating in softball and track and field.

On the other end of the gym Coaches Fauser and Gira have the young men developing themselves through football and soccer in the fall, and in the winter they come inside to increase their skill in basketball and the area of gymnastics. The spring comes along and it is outdoors again to play baseball and to develop prowess in track and field.

Together, the gentlemen met the ladies in the square dancing and co-ed volleyball tournament.

BUSINESS

Many outside activities have been accomplished by the Business Department other than those required to be done in the classroom. Among those services have been packaging the newsletters for the Board of Education and typing the envelopes for Easter Seals, which were done by the office practice and secretarial practice classes as a community service.

As an outside activity the office practice class made Christmas cards to practice using the mimeograph and azograph machines.

The Business Department does not overlook students who do well in their studies. Awards are given to students who excel in shorthand, typing, mathematical, and filing proficiency.

To help typists develop even rhythmatic typing, they practice to records, from minuets to the rumba.

Business students took a trip to the Stock Exchange and the Federal Reserve, and the Business Law class visited the County Jail.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. SACHS and MRS. MERL

The primary objective of our Home Economics Department might be entitled, "Preparation for Living." Under the guidance of Mrs. Sachs and Mrs. Merl, this department offers courses in foods and nutrition, clothing selection and construction, interior design, child development, and family living. This combined curriculum is designed to provide the students with a comprehensive course of work that will enable them to use their talents at the present time as well as the ability to cope with new and changing situations in the future.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS and

"...and don't ever touch this button."

Industrial Arts at Westlake covers many areas. The emphasis in seventh grade is placed on developing the skills and knowledge associated with the woodworking, plastics, and ceramic industries. Eighth graders are introduced to the metal, electricity, and graphic art industries. Three electives, one in machine techniques, another comprising engines, hydraulics, and service occupations and the last in the construction industries, are available for Senior High Students.

The Mechanical Drawing classes are engaged in making plates of architectural and structural designs. In order to broaden their knowledge beyond the school atmosphere these classes took a trip to the Safe Flight Instrument Company.

BOARD OF COOPERATIVE

Practice makes pretty.

Many of the students at Westlake supplement their academic programs by participating in programs which are part of the activities of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services. Many spend a portion of each day at the training centers operated by BOCES. Here they are instructed in Beauty Culture, Data Processing, Ornamental Horticulture, Auto Mechanics, Auto Body and Fenders, or Trade Electronics. Upon graduation, the students from Westlake and other area high schools will have received the necessary practical knowledge to pursue their vocational skills full-time.

The Vocational Industrial Cooperative Program is also in operation at Westlake. These students attend academic classes in the morning and work as apprentices in the afternoon. Another program is STEP to Employment. Those students attend classes in academic subjects and a combination vocational guidance and English class in the morning and work in the afternoon. Programs sponsored by the Board of Cooperative Educational Services are an important part of our school, which help make it a truly comprehensive high school.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Besides the many other activities at W. H. S., the students greatly appreciate the special services. The best remedy for a headache is to go see Miss Wherli and lie on one of the soft couches in her office. If you have a personal problem that you can't seem to solve by yourself, Mrs. Goldfrank, our psychiatrist, will help you with it. Those with difficulty in reading can be assisted by Mr. McMahon, our reading specialist. A welcome addition to our school this year is Mrs. Rose who is a full time speech specialist.

FIRST CLASS

Let us present the First Class passengers of our ship. They are taking their last voyage with us, for each of them will soon be boarding new vessels on which they will travel in different directions and seek more challenging adventures. They have contributed greatly to the harmony and functions of our ship, but are outgrowing it. They will set out on other seas where, we hope, they will determine their ideals and succeed in finding them.

DENNIS KENNEDY

Death Be Not Proud

Death be not proud, though some have called thee
Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so;
For those whom think'st thou dost overthrow
Die not, poor Death; nor yet canst thou kill me.
From Rest and Sleep, which but thy picture be,
Much pleasure; then from thee much more must flow;
And soonest our best men with thee do go—
Rest of their bones and souls' delivery!

Thou'rt slave to Fate, chance, kings, and desperate men,
And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell;
And poppy or charms can make us sleep as well
And better than thy stroke. Why swell'st thou then?
One short sleep past, we wake eternally,
And Death shall be no more; Death, thou shalt die!

—John Donne—

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Music for Luv

Well advised by Mr. Gould, the Class of '66 had a very successful year. The majority of their activities were concerned with making the necessary money for the Senior Ball and graduation. Last spring a discotheque dance was held. The football refreshments concession was switched for the basketball concession, bake sales were again held during the lunch periods, and the Valentine's dance, "Luv," was sponsored.

Several new senior priviledges were granted. Seniors were allowed to change their lunch periods and were permitted to cut into the lunch lines. Senior ID cards were given out. With the help of the Parents Group they received the priviledge of having a Senior beach party.

The high point of the year was the prom, on June 3, given at Briar Hall. This will be a long-remembered evening for all who attended. Following a Hawaiian theme, the Parents Group sponsored our graduation party at the Boys Club in Mount Kisco.

P.S. Get your peanut brittle now!

Lobbying for peanut brittle.

Ready, set . . .a Go-Go.

And if you don't have an elevator . . .

"I'm sorry, but we're all out of M & M's."

"Yeah, fifteen cents!"

"Fellas, look at the ones I made."

"I get the piece with the cherry."

"Hey, one hand at a time."

TOURIST CLASS

The Tourist Class passengers are a vital part of our ship. They willingly join in the activities of the ship and are acquiring the experience and knowledge they will need upon taking the First Class positions on future voyages. We have faith that they will maintain and add to our ship's good reputation and will build up its prestige in the eyes of its neighbors and competitors.

JUNIORS

5,000 hot dogs, 10,000 sodas, 2,000 candy bars.

The main activity for the Class of '67, as for any Junior Class, was the Junior Prom. It became a spring prom for the first time, and with the theme of "Some Enchanted Evening" the gym was transformed into a dream tinted in blue.

Proms take money, and the juniors worked hard to earn it. To add to the profits from last year's Sadie Hawkins field day, dances, and other activities, the Juniors again sold candied apples before Christmas vacation. They inherited the football concession from last year's juniors and though few of them can now look a hot dog in the face, they agreed it was a successful venture.

With Mr. Schoengold as their advisor, the juniors are ready for the bigger and better things to come.

Finally.

Going to au-go-go.

During the course of the year, the sophomore class has participated in numerous bake sales to raise money. They also sponsored the traditional Sadie Hawkins field day and dance.

The most outstanding thing accomplished this year was the presentation of the "Blues Project" in concert. The work involved with preparing for a group in concert gave the committees a great deal of fun. The five professionals involved in the program presented an interesting evening of entertainment.

The sophomores were an active class this year, trying things never done before at Westlake as well as carrying on traditions already established.

"Sorry, the set just didn't take!"

FRESHMEN

FRESHMEN CLASS OFFICERS

Freshman funds are finally figuring! Their doughnut sale increased their treasury to one hundred dollars, and plans for doubling this sum were begun.

To the freshmen, the doughnut sale was the biggest event of the year. Jean Strachan, by many business transactions throughout the county, purchased 612 jelly doughnuts at a reasonable discount. Aside from a little too much powdered sugar, everyone seemed to enjoy them.

A dance was sponsored by the class in the spring. Abounding in much energy, ambition, and initiative, this class is and should continue to be a great asset to the school.

"Well, my brother . . . "

"What do you mean, plus two cents tax?"

"Gently, gently, don't knock any of the sugar off!"

"No, no! I wanted four apple and two cream!"

JUNIOR

Who's leading, while the boys eat?

We're sociable; the girls just aren't hungry.

HIGH

MARK ALLEN

"I wonder if this was the way the Indians did it!"

"Give me your homework, I've got to copy it quick!"

After the attack . . .

is it study hall or lunch?

France or bust!

The Junior High French Club is an ambitious group with many plans. This year the club members held a bake sale, featuring French lemon tarts, to raise funds for a planned trip to France in 1969. They also held the dance, "Bal D'Automne," in the fall.

The young linguists, sponsored by Mrs. Brodey, became acquainted with many aspects of France. Highlights of their meetings were the entertainment sessions in which they played various French games.

"Distributive, associative, and commutative! You must remember them."

The Junior High Math Club, sponsored by Miss Ellison, met every Thursday during the past year. Composed of eighth graders, the club did advanced math problems and played mathematical games. These games helped them to develop their minds to think logically and accurately.

RECREATION

The opportunity for recreational activities is enormous on our ship. There is something for everyone. Helping to get people to know each other better, these activities play an important role in keeping our ship from falling into a boring routine. They bring out each person's interests and hidden talents. In doing this, they aid a passenger in the decision of which seas he will sail after leaving our ship.

COUNCIL

As usual for this organization at Westlake, the Student Council had a busy year. A Halloween party was given for the orphans at McCloskey Home in White Plains. Before Christmas was the annual toy drive, which was even more successful than last year. Preceding the Christmas dance was the Student Council dinner. "Mistletoe Magic" created an enjoyable evening with "The Intruders" supplying the music.

In February a program was given for the Parents Group to acquaint them with the more important clubs of the school. A plan for sponsoring an overseas orphan was begun this year. Hopefully, by the end of next year, Westlake will be a "foster parent."

In its second year the Junior High Student Council was very active. It sponsored a Christmas dance, "Holly Hop," on December 10. Also held in December was a bake sale.

Under the direction of Mrs. Thompson the council came up with some original ideas. It sponsored a drive which collected paperback books, adult games, and personal items for our wounded soldiers in Vietnam. It also acted as the Junior High Red Cross Council. It planned to use the funds collected in Junior High Classes for their Vietnam drive.

The National Honor Society's main theme for this year's activities was service to the school, to the students, and to the community. This year, the Society made the first steps toward sponsoring a scholarship for a deserving senior. As in the past, the Honor Society provided a tutoring service for students who wished to have extra help in their studies. Another activity was Alumni Day, which was held in December.

On February 3rd, the Honor Society held its annual induction ceremony. Twenty-eight new members were inducted at that time.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE
Friends round the world.

Although no A.F.S. student attended Westlake this year, our local chapter of the American Field Service was kept active preparing for next year's student. Newspapers sold by the club to the student body added to the funds to pay for bringing a foreign student here. The student club continued to work with the adult group, frequently attending the monthly night meetings. One of the highlights of the year for the A.F.S. was a reception for the parents of all 9th, 10th, and 11th graders. After this reception, many parents expressed an increased interest in the A.F.S., and several became interested in having an A.F.S. student live with them. Concha, last year's A.F.S. student, wrote frequently to her host family and to Westlake. These letters, published in the ECHO, proved to all that the American Field Service is rewarding for all concerned.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE
The Roman Way.

The members of the Junior Classical League study classical civilization. They believe the study of the civilization of Greece and Rome will help them understand the world of today which is indebted to these ancient civilizations for its governments, laws, literature, languages and art.

This group of Latin scholars learns by doing. The October induction, complete with girls in stolas and boys in togas, added 23 new members to the club. The Latin banquet, a traditional affair, also called for authentic Latin dress, "ova ad mala."

The Spanish Club of Westlake High School adds fun to learning Spanish. Accompanied by Dr. Edreira, the club's sponsor, on the guitar, the members sing Spanish and Latin American songs. Whenever they meet, the halls of Westlake ring with lively Spanish rhythms. The club planned to perform at a school concert, adding an international flavor to the program. Their motto could well be "Nostros cantamos muy bien."

WESTLAKE

The Westlake Players involves a number of students, since various talents are needed to produce two productions each year. In the fall, a powerful drama, THE MIRACLE WORKER, was presented to full houses and was both a popular and a critical success. The spring production, in conjunction with the Music Department, was THE KING AND I.

The nucleus of the troupe became more firmly structured when Westlake received a charter as National Thespian Troupe No. 2664 in June of 1965, with Mr. Shulman as advisor. The members are students who have worked constantly on the productions and form the backbone of crews and casts.

The players presented rewarding and enjoyable productions for the school and community, receiving from these productions as much enjoyment as the audience.

MUSICAL

"You don't say!"

Many people besides those taking credit courses enjoy the musical activities at Westlake. They may become members of organized groups, like the Dance Band and the Folk Song Club. Those who want advice and help with more informal activities, such as preparing a quartet for an assembly, find it readily available. In addition to this, some people enjoy helping with one of the credit activities, for instance, the twirlers and the color guard who work with the band. Everyone enjoys the performances of these groups.

SERVICE and PROFESSIONAL CLUBS

LIBRARY CLUB

Keepers of the books.

The members of the Library Club assisted Mr. Grosso, Mrs. Johnston, and Mrs. Crawford in operating the library. They worked with the card catalogue, shelved books, and checked books in and out of the library. In the spring, the club members went to see the play SUPER-MAN.

RED CROSS COUNCIL

Preparation for disaster.

The Junior High School Red Cross Council is made up of the Junior High School Student Council members. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Thompson and Miss Wehrli, the school nurse, undertook a drive to obtain gifts for the wounded soldiers in Vietnam. The students and friends of Westlake were very generous in donating gifts to the drive.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB
The 1974 Faculty.

Increasing its membership and activities this year, the Future Teachers Club took over classes for elementary school teachers to enable the teachers to attend district meetings. Some members had the opportunity to take over extracurricular activities. Delegates from the club attended the New York State F.T.A. Conference this spring.

The Business Club held its annual dance, "Discotheque A Go-Go," in January. The money from this dance and a cake sale held in November was used for field trips. Trips were planned to IBM and General Foods.

and G.A.A.

Beware, Varsities! The G.A.A., still a relatively new organization, continued to grow in participants and also added calisthenics to its curriculum. Calisthenics, a program of free exercise, was run by four volunteers for half the period. The remaining time was devoted to individual work-outs.

The fall season offered field hockey and archery, followed by volleyball and gymnastics. Basketball and calisthenics comprised the winter schedule, while baseball and track occupied the spring slate.

Awards were based on the number of cummulative points earned by the individual. Besides earning points for each intramural and honor team, girls were able to acquire them as captains, officials, timers, or class assistants.

The Honor Teams form a separate division of the G.A.A. Girls who play well are chosen to compete against other schools in hockey, volleyball, basketball, baseball, and track. This year they played such adversaries as Valhalla, Sleepy Hollow, Woodlands, and Horace Greeley.

The 1965-66 school year at Westlake produced the finest student newspaper in the three years since our school first began its efforts in journalism. The ECHO has become a tradition at Westlake thanks to the work of two dozen students who gave of their talents for writing, drawing, and getting ideas, and of its advisors Miss Daul and Miss Rezza, who gave of their time.

This year, the ECHO adopted a whole new look, from its new front page design and letterhead to captioned pictures. It has also sponsored new projects, including the cheating poll, a contest, and a newspaper exchange program with almost every other high school in Westchester.

PUBLICATIONS

Westlake's literary magazine became more professional this year. It switched from off-set printing to professional lettering done by the publisher. Submitted articles were limited to senior high students so that the magazine would not be swamped by articles it could not use.

A box was placed in the library for submitted articles. A system whereby each writer is assigned a number was set up. In that way, an article could be read and judged without the judge knowing the name of the writer. A money prize was set up to be given to the author of the best article.

How is a yearbook put together? Who does the work? After each volume is published, the staff for the following year begins work under the direction of Miss Johnston. Many talents are directed toward the yearbook. In the spring, the feature staff develops a theme and plans for the book. During the fall and winter, the art, literary, and photography staffs create the three major elements of the book: art work, copy, and photographs. After these staffs are finished, the typists and managing staffs put the book into the form in which it will be sent to the publisher. While the book is being prepared, the business staff publicizes and sells the book. A yearbook takes time and effort on the part of many people, but the fun and satisfaction gained from it makes it worth the work.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB
"Who get's the camera this weekend?"

The Photography Club is comprised of boys interested in professional photography and methods of development. It supplies photographs for many of the school's needs. This year these future photographers started working with color. An enlarger, a camera with an electronic flash, and some new developing equipment were added to the club's store of equipment.

DECK GAMES

We have been very fortunate in the participants in the deck games and our choice of coaches. Our competitors have found us very tough to overcome. For this reason, and because of the sportsmanship and effort shown by the teams, we are extremely proud of them. Our ship's reputation in games is widespread, and we are confident that it will continue to grow.

CHEERLEADERS

Tense moments at a football game.

Working hard to keep the crowd roaring, are the Westlake High School Cheerleaders. The two squads, junior varsity and varsity, are both advised by Miss Allen.

The cheerleaders, although very busy cheering for JV and Varsity football, basketball and varsity soccer, managed to find time to sponsor pep rallies, a dance, a bonfire, and bake sales. The money they collected from the dance and bake sales went towards buying their own uniforms and jackets.

Proud to be students at Westlake, the cheerleaders work hard to make sports enjoyable for the spectator by encouraging good sportsmanship.

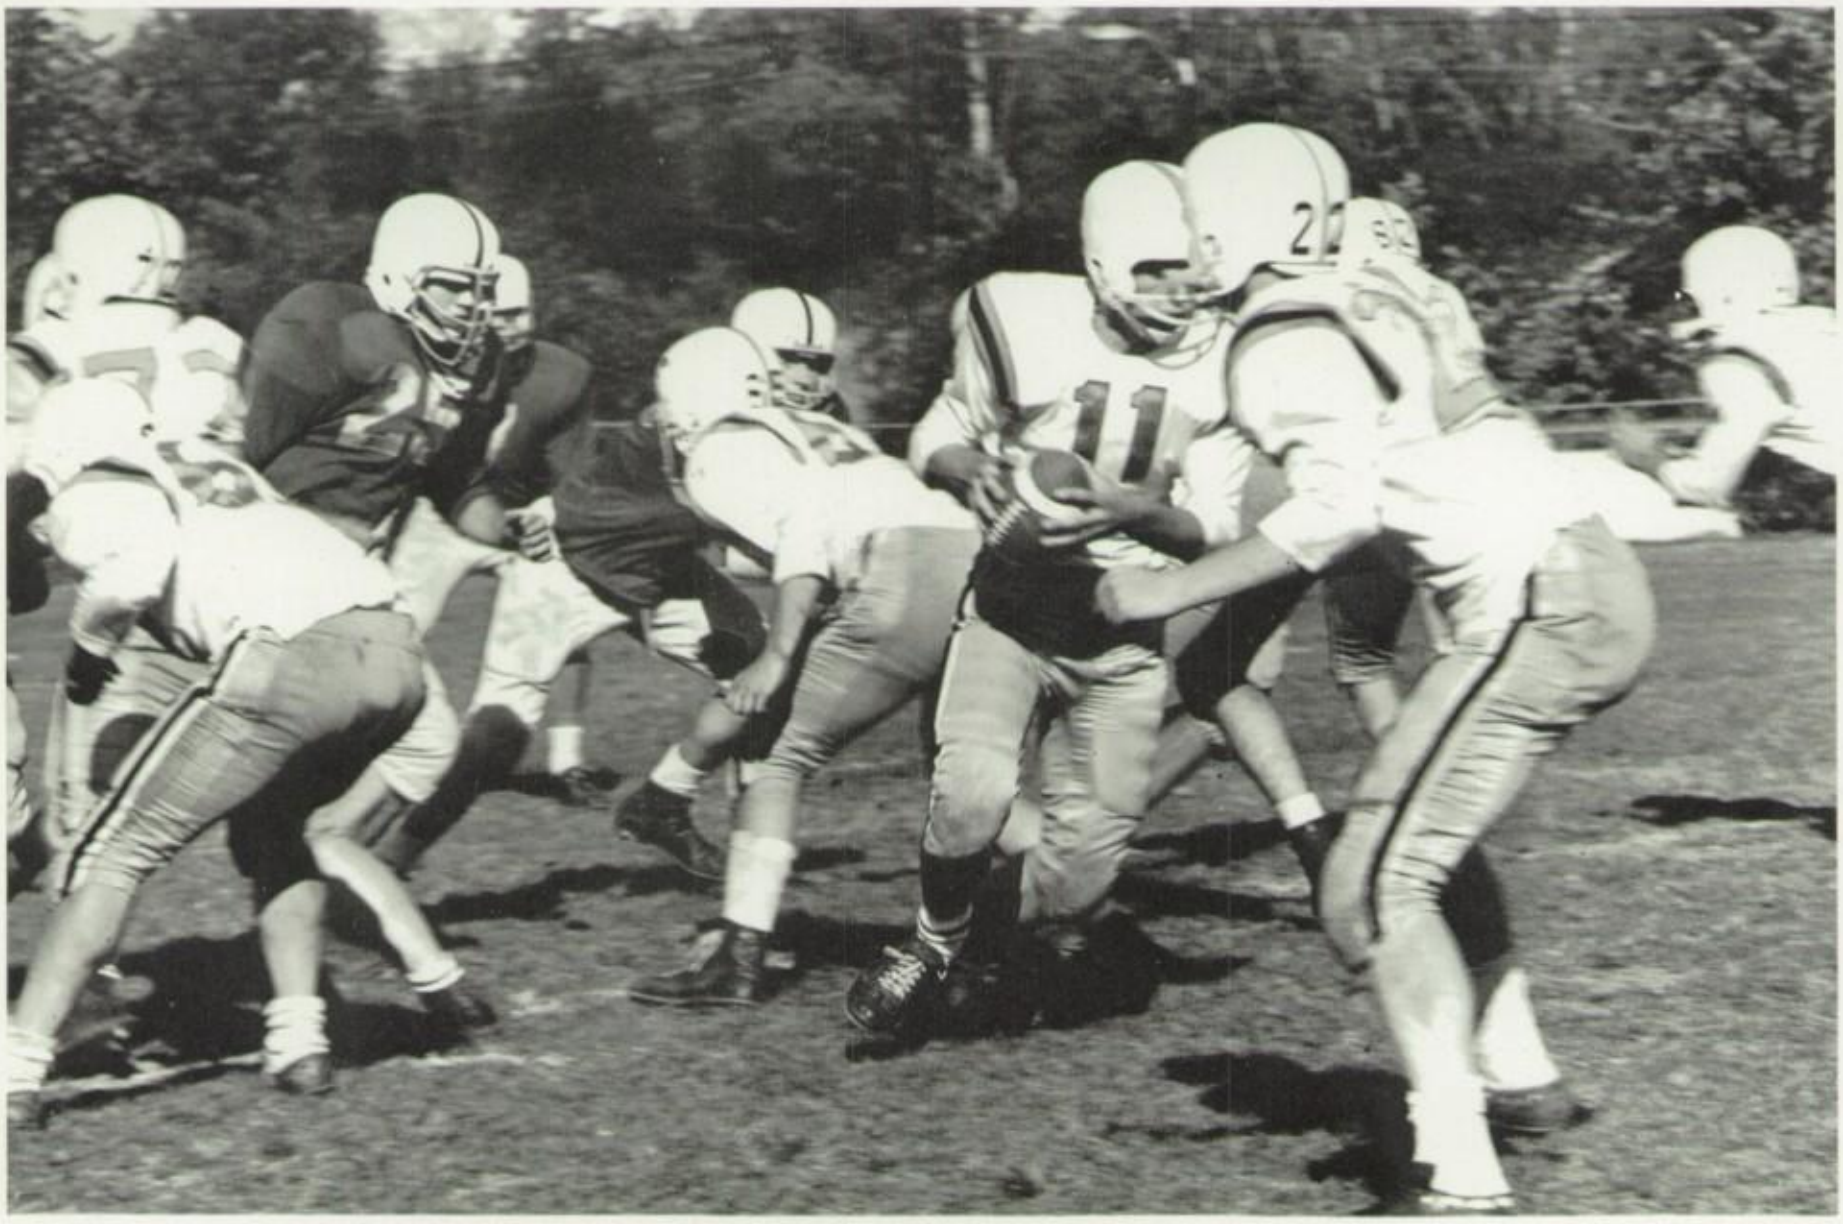
FOOTBALL



Action in the Wildcat backfield.

Captain Winter and Coach Carmean put heads together.

The Wildcats' football team had a disappointing season on the record. However, there were a few bright spots and things look better for next year. Some of the season's highlights were the 26-12 triumph over Concordia; a splendid passing attack displayed against Tuckahoe, although it was a losing effort; and a final victory over Rye Neck, 19-0. The passing attack displayed against Tuckahoe was called by Coach Carmean "the finest passing attack that I have ever seen in high school football." The 19-0 victory over Rye Neck was the first shutout for Westlake in two years. It is encouraging that eight of the starting eleven will return next year. The sophomores from the league champion junior varsity team should also help bolster the team. This combination should provide a winning season for the Westlake Wildcats and Coach Carmean.

SOCCER

The 1965 edition of the Westlake soccer team under the leadership of Mr. Gira and co-captains Ben Bailey and Levio Levanti sparked the team to its most successful season in the high school's history. A well balanced attack led by Clark and Levanti, and a solid defense spearheaded by Bruce Buzzewitz, backed up an outstanding performance by goalie Bailey. The team, for the first time, was invited to the New York State Sectional 1 Tournament, and played well but failed to qualify for the semi-finals, suffering a 2-1 defeat at the hands of Horace Greeley High.

The 1965-66 basketball teams did it again! The well renowned Wildcats' Varsity compiled an outstanding 20-1 record for the second straight year and the Junior Cats also repeated as league champions at 15 wins and 3 losses.

The Wildcats outplayed the first 18 teams they faced which led them to the position of Kingpins of the Central Westchester League, which they have now held for three years running. In addition they captured first laurels in the Yorktown Christmas Tournament. At the completion of this year's hardcourt activities, the Cats had clawed the last 30 opponents who ventured onto our home court.

This season had many high points and among the many honors given the Westlake hoopsters was the Harlem Globe Trotters Award which is based on ability on the court as well as individual and team sportsmanship.

The one and only set back of the season for Westlake came in the "A" class final of the New York State Section 1 tournament at the County Center. The Cats who had moved up to higher competition lost in a double overtime by two points to the Wolves of Gorton High.

This final loss snapped a 27 game winning streak. The overall record for the last three years stands at 59 victories against only four defeats . . . a magnificent achievement for Coach Gira and his young men.

There is no doubt that the Westlake Wildcats in these few years as a team have won an enviable reputation which will last throughout the county, for many years to come.

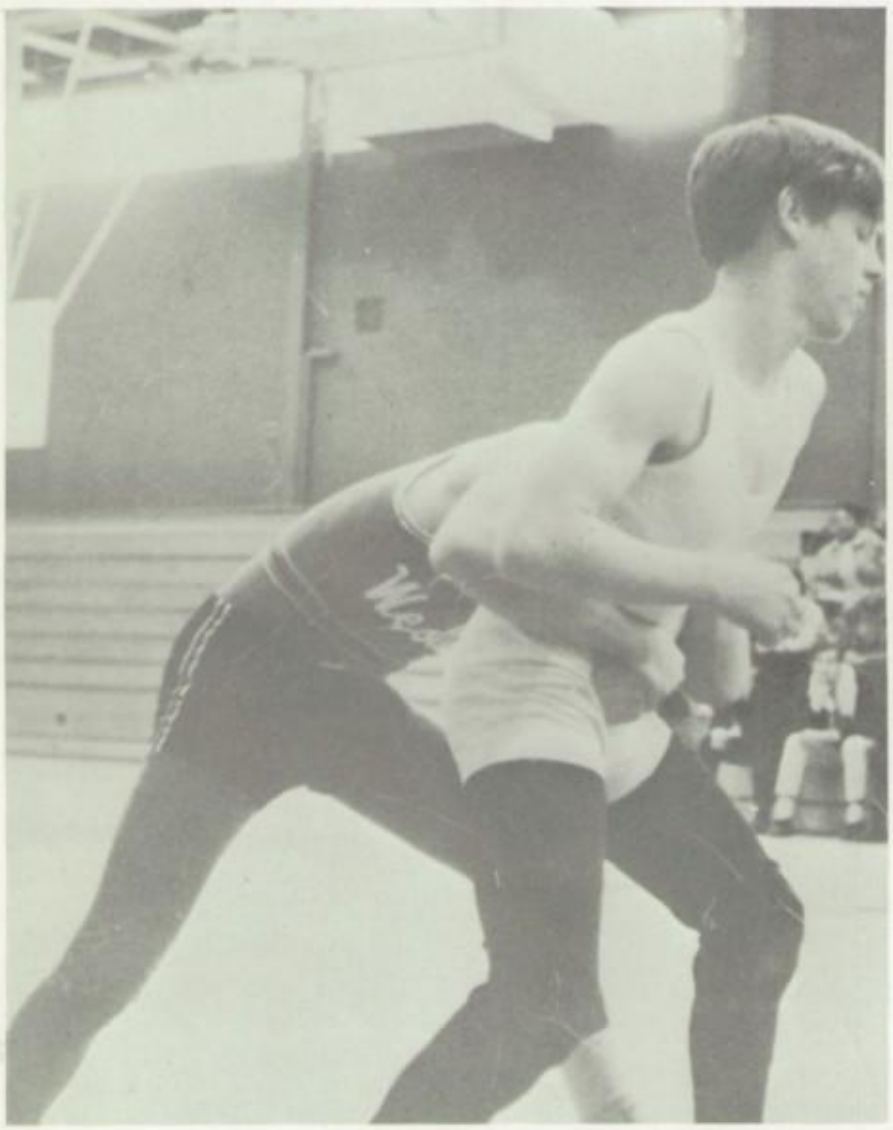
WRESTLING



LoTurco attempts a take down.

The Varsity Wrestling team finished the 1965 season compiling a 5-5 record. The squad hoped to be the champions again this year. However, as the season wore on, the grapplers' chances for achieving this were diminished, because they had to forfeit two weight classes in each meet.

The highlight of the season was the victory over Rye Neck, the CWL Tournament winner. Outstanding performances were given by Gasper Terrana and Jim Van Fleet who took seconds in the divisions.

Next year's team, to be captained by Gasper Terrana, promises to give Westlake a season to be proud of, despite the loss of senior starters, Bill Huffaker, Bruce Bussewitz, and Skip San Marco.

BASEBALL

Westlake's Varsity baseball team had another fine season under the expert leadership of Coach Passabet. The record for the season was 13-4, but it does not tell the whole story. The Cats were just a game away from their second league trophy, but a shaky first game against Tuckahoe cost them the crown. With the pressure on, the Cats entered the Sectional Tournament, and with two well played victories against Brewster and John Jay, they annexed the class B title. The team was led by the sturdy bats of Dick Jackette and Ben Bailey, the sure gloves of Bob Clark and Bill Schwarzkopf, and the fine clutch pitching of Steve Broege. With all the boys mentioned above and a fine crop of Junior Varsity boys moving up, the '66 edition of the Lakers should be just as good as last year's.

TRACK

Westlake's track team, coached by Mr. Dick Carmean, enjoyed a fairly successful season. Their won and lost columns were even at 5 and 5, and the fleet-footed Cats are already looking forward to next season, with the bulk of the lettermen returning. This year's team was one of strength, but lacked the depth to be a truly great outfit. The boys took more than their share of first places, but the other teams finished strongly with the second and third positions, hence, nullifying Westlake's effort. If one man was to be singled out for recognition, it would be James McKenzie. As a soph, he set school records in the high jump and the broad jump.

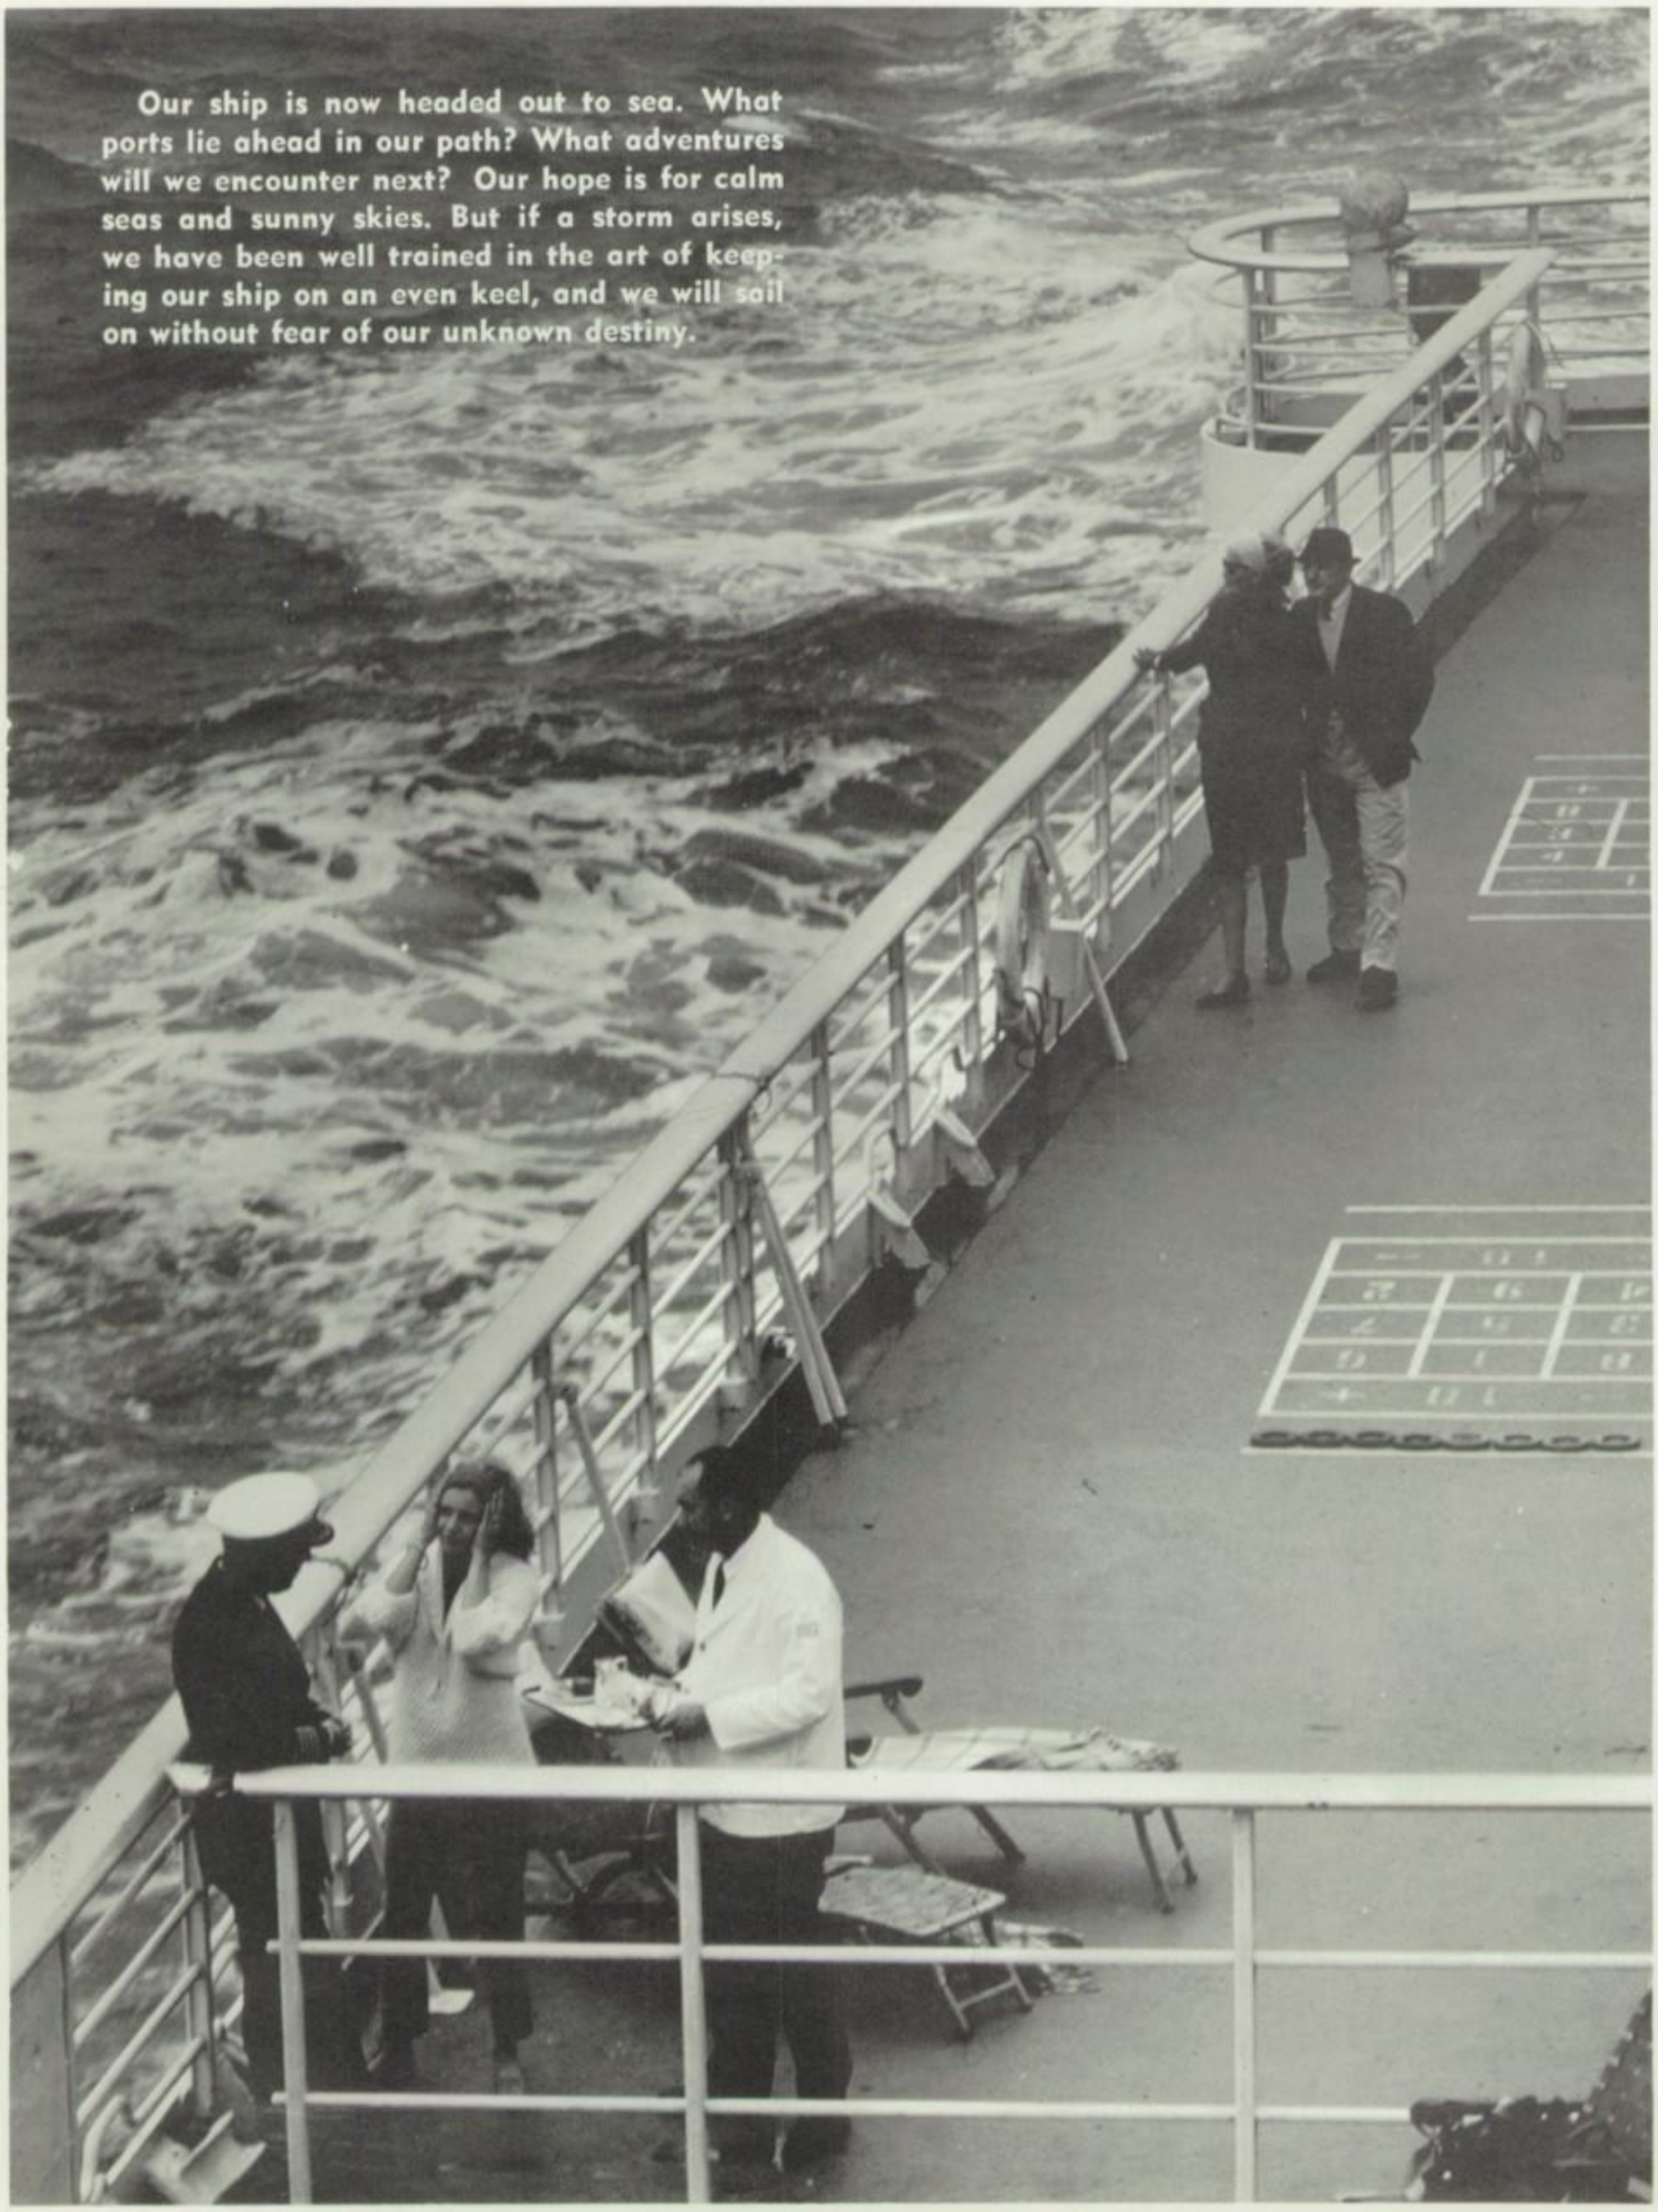
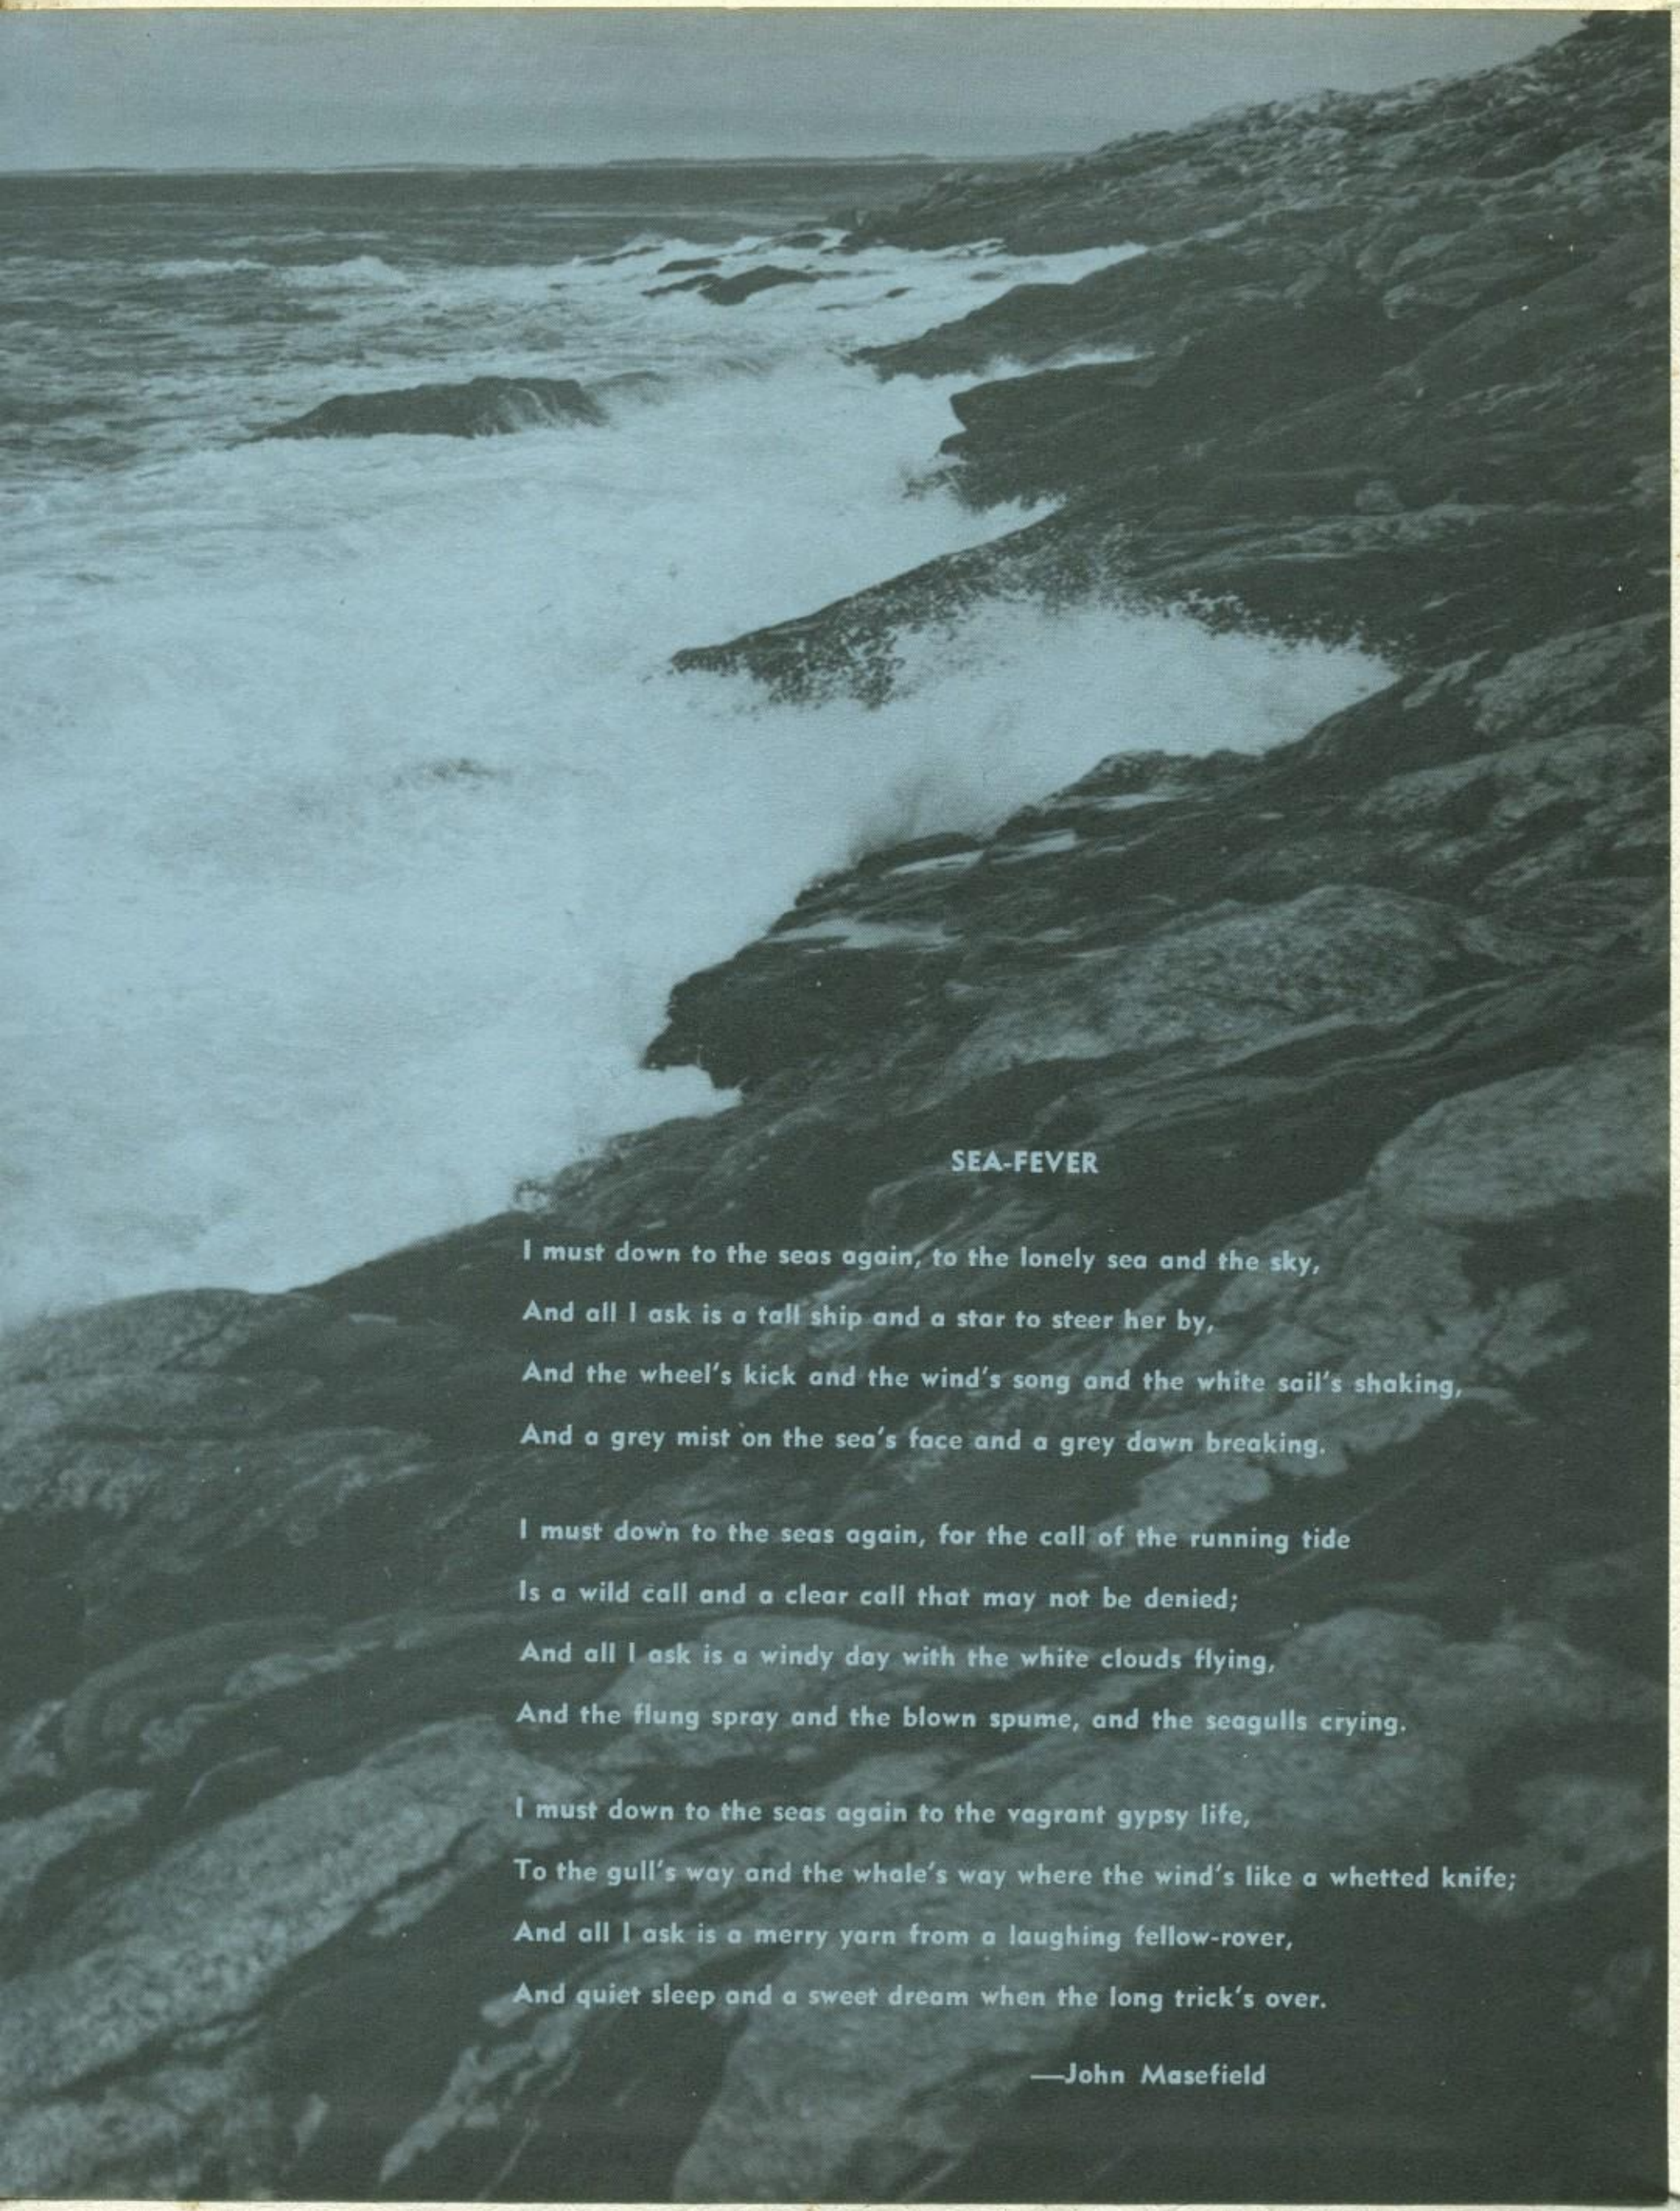
Jim McKenzie leaps for school record.



Our ship is now headed out to sea. What ports lie ahead in our path? What adventures will we encounter next? Our hope is for calm seas and sunny skies. But if a storm arises, we have been well trained in the art of keeping our ship on an even keel, and we will sail on without fear of our unknown destiny.



SEA-FEVER

I must down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by,
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking,
And a grey mist on the sea's face and a grey dawn breaking.

I must down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the seagulls crying.

I must down to the seas again to the vagrant gypsy life,
To the gull's way and the whale's way where the wind's like a whetted knife;
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover,
And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.

—John Masefield
